

The Great "by faith" Biography Series

Throughout history, God has used specific men and women for His kingdom, not because they were more knowledgeable or stronger than everyone else, but because they had inextinguishable faith. From John Wycliffe in England to Robert Morrison in China to Mary Slessor and David Livingstone in Africa, their faith proved true. They endured mockery, disease, wild beasts, and all kinds of persecution for the sake of the Gospel. But why?

These men and women of God hoped in something bigger than themselves, bigger than this world. They hoped in Christ. The Great "By Faith" Biography Series tells their stories—stories that must not be forgotten in a generation looking for every reason to believe and live by faith.
